Notes

Unless otherwise noted, all data are for 2015-16 and include all grades offered by the district.
In most tables, data are displayed only for the three major race/ethnicity categories. For additional race/ethnicity categories, please visit edsight.ct.gov.
State totals are not displayed as they are not comparable to district totals.
Special Education tables reflect only students for whom the district is fiscally responsible.

* When an asterisk is displayed, data have been suppressed to ensure student confidentiality. N/A is displayed when a category is not applicable for a district or school.

Performance and Accountability

District Performance Index (DPI)

A District Performance Index (DPI) is the average performance of students in a subject area (i.e., ELA, Mathematics or Science) on the state summative assessments.The DPI ranges from 0-100. A DPI is reported for all students tested in a district and for students in each individual student group. Connecticut's ultimate target for a DPI is 75 .

This table compares Connecticut's performance to that of national public school students. Performance standards for state assessments and NAEP are set independently. Therefore, one should not expect performance results to be the same across Smarter Balanced and NAEP. Instead, NAEP results are meant to complement other state assessment data. ${ }^{2}$ The Connecticut Physical Fitness Assessment (CPFA) is administered to all students in Grades 4, 6, 8 and 10. The health-related fitness scores gathered through the CPFA should be used to educate and motivate children and their families to increase physical activity and develop lifetime fitness habits.
${ }^{3}$ Only students assessed in all four areas are included in this calculation.

Next Generation Accountability Results

These statistics are the results from Connecticut's Next Generation Accountability System for districts and schools. This system is a broad set of 12 indicators that help tell the story of how well a school is preparing its students for success in college, careers and life. It moves beyond test scores and graduation rates and instead provides a more holistic, multifactor perspective of district and school performance and incorporates student growth over time.

Narratives

School District Improvement Plans and Parental Outreach Activities

Region 12 is committed to improving special education programming for students. Starting at the preschool level, the District made a decision to increase the number of classrooms, allowing more students to receive a preschool experience. Our high school students are working with local businesses to shadow and/or work alongside professionals in their field of interest. Through these efforts, students are learning skills that prepare them for college and the world beyond. Finally, the team always considers the individual student and considers all appropriate instructional services, assistive technology, and outside consultative support needed for success in the grade level curriculum.

Region 12 works with families and students to decrease chronic absenteeism. Families of students who are chronically absent are contacted by school administration to address concerns regarding multiple absences. If necessary, a referral to the student strategies team (at the elementary level) or the SRBI team (at the secondary level) occurs to discover the root cause of the absences. Both teams work with families and students to create a plan for improved school attendance. School supports and services, as well as outside consultative services, may be assigned as part of the students plan.

Region 12 is dedicated to promoting a strong home-school connection in order to strengthen overall academic and social achievement of our students. Our schools focus on engaging families in the education of their children through improved communication and activities. Aside from parent conferences, newsletters, progress reports and report cards, staff communicates with parents via email, postcards, blogging and web pages. Communication between school and home, as well as with the community, is enhanced by our district website with links to specific schools and a regional newsletter that is emailed bi-weekly. Our schools provide a parent link on their website that includes daily parent tips and current research on common school related questions. To support active parental participation, several information sessions are held yearly in our schools in order to assist parents in understanding academic and behavioral expectations, as well as effective strategies to support students success. We have cultivated a very involved and dedicated Parent-Teacher Organization which has been instrumental in providing enriching experiences for our students. Throughout the year, parents work in classrooms as volunteers and guest readers, provide presentations, chaperone field trips and attend performances, art displays, classroom events and recognition ceremonies. Many parents are resources for our Junior Job Shadow at the high school, as well as work as technical advisers to our seniors working on their culminating independent projects.

Efforts to Reduce Racial, Ethnic and Economic Isolation

The Region 12 learning community is committed to providing diverse experiences for all students. Educators provide students with many classroom and school-wide activities that promote mutual respect, tolerance and positive character development. The Region's curriculum is designed to expose students to a variety of cultures.

For example, students compare and contrast various communities, cultures and historical events. In studying such topics as Japan, Alaska, Regions of the United States, slavery and immigration, students participate in simulations, increasing awareness of self, family, school, and community.

Additional examples include participation in the Rhyme Celebration sponsored by the Coalition of Language Teachers in Connecticut, competing with students from other schools in a poetry contest, and performing in Spanish and other languages.

Integrated within the music program, students sing and play songs of various cultures. Elementary school students participate in a "Customs Around the World" program during the school year. Many guest speakers and activities are integrated within the academic programming.

For example, students study Asian and African cultures. Students also study Jewish history and participate in the Holocaust Memorial Day. Students participate in intensive studies of the eastern cultures of Japan, China, Vietnam and India. Olympic Day offers an opportunity for middle school students to gain further insight into world cultures through informational presentations about various countries. Students are encouraged to participate in global field trips to places such as the impoverished community of Oaxaca, Mexico and to the Lakota Indians in South Dakota to assist efforts to feed, clothe, and house its people.

The After School Arts Program (ASAP) offers students opportunities to participate in diverse after school activities. ASAP sponsors several programs, offering students interaction with inner-city students, resulting in an inter-district dance performance assembly for students and staff.

Equitable Allocation of Resources among District Schools

Region 12 prepares the budget to support its vision and mission to meet the needs of all students in an effective and fiscally responsible manner. This zero-based budget process allows each principal and program leader to develop and propose a budget request for the following fiscal year. Personnel funding is handled centrally and is controlled by a policy that seeks to ensure equability across the Region. Special education costs are dictated by the requirements of IEP's that define student's needs, ranging from in-class support to costly out-of-district placements. The FY15-16 budget request was a (. $26 \%$ ) decrease over the prior year's budget, endorsed by the voters at the first referendum. This budget allowed the Region to continue the Chromebook 1:1 program in Grades 2-12, as well as purchase supplies to enhance a Robotics Program at Shepaug Valley School. Beginning in the 2016-17 school year, a STEM teacher will be hired to work with students in Grades K-5. Due to the generosity of the community, the District is able to provide ample equitable resources and learning opportunities among all schools.
